Baseball Series Now a Tie.

"Nick" Powers' hard-hitting gave Doylestown a victory over-Lansdale in the second game of the series to decide the winner of the Montgomery County League pennant, at Doylestown last Saturday. Score, 9 to 8.

The big fielder hit two home runs and two doubles. It was a hectic struggle for supremacy, with victory swaying back and forth during three hours of play.

Eight thousand wild fans attended the battle and saw Longacre, Doylestown's eighteen-year-old pitching sensation, hold the heavy Lansdale sluggers to nine hits, while his teammates garnered fifteen off Mellinger and Reed. Mellinger was forced to retire in the sixth inning and "Reds" Weinert, former Philly pitcher, was sent to the mound.

Weinert got into an argument with Umpire Duncan, however, and was banished from the game after directing profane language at the umpire. Reed then went in to pitch.

— Settlement house is suggested for the east end of Doylestown.

—Norristown has begun the erection of a new school house in the east end.

PHONY DOCTOR IS SCORED.

Evan Jones Gathers $700 From Gullible Folk.

Sentence Is Suspended—W. Charlton Gets 18 Months as One of Gang in Whitemarsh Car Robbery—Jail Breakers Sentenced.

While the court scored Evan Jones, of Reading, who obtained nearly $700 from five persons in the Perkiomen valley, under the pretense of curing these people of serious ills, but permitted the suggestion for a suspension of sentence to prevails stating, however, that Jones would be severly dealt with in the event of his failing to refrain from further misrepresentation as a physician. It was said that $697 had been given to the district attorney to be returned to the five known victims of Jones, together with the expenses attending the establishment of the case. The prosecution, it developed, was brought at the instance of the Montgomery County Medical Association.

A sentence of 30 days was imposed upon Joseph McCollum, formerly of Norristown, now of Lower Providence, where he has been operating a jitney. Judge Miller said the testimony indicated that the defendant was one of those auto operators who, in the vernacular, were termed as "road hogs," seeming to think that the highway is for their use only. That the boy KennethHuff was permanently hurt in being hurled by the McCollum machine on the level road near Yerkes precluded the thought of a mere fine and costs in sentencing.

For their attack upon Underkeeper A. McGarvey in the Montgomery County Prison, in an attempt at jail breaking, Blanche Sylvia and Mary Nelson, inmates of the penal institution, as a result of larceny charges, were this morning given a sentence of a year each in jail. This will date from the expiration of their present term of imprisonment. The women were told by Judge Solly that their story of the attack on the jail officer for an alleged effort to enter their cell for an improper purpose was not believed, and that they were adding perjury to their other offenses.

Wm. Charlton, a former Philadelphia policeman, who pleaded guilty to attempting to enter a railroad freight car, was given a sentence of 18 months in jail, it having been charged that he was one of a Philadelphia gang of men who attempted to rob freight cars in the Whitemarsh yard of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Charlton was the operator of the Packard car which took the men to the freight yard. He claimed that he did not know the others, nor their purposes, other than he had been hired, at the instance of a friend, to operate their car. For character witnesses, he had several police officers from Philadelphia.

Sentence was suspended in the action of Sid Chalmers, a Tioga youth who wet to Spring Mount and induced several youths to enter a bungalow. Chalmers pleaded guilty to receiving stolen goods.

Representatives of each school met at Lansdale and organized for the 1921-22 season which opens the second week in December. The teams however, may play other ouside teams before that time.

William Hellyer, manager of the Doylestown High quintet, is president of the league. The only other officer is E. Kephart Boughter, of Lansdale, who is secretary.

About the only thing wanting in the new Bux-Mont High School Basketball circuit is the offer of a championship cup or pennant of the winner of the race. It is understood that offers will be accepted at any time by the league officials.

McGOLDRICK IS GUILTY

Of Keeping Gambling House at Wheel Pump.

Jury in Case So Decides—Sentence Deferred Until Next Saturday—Fines and Jail Sentences Imposed.

John McGoldrick, owner of the Wheel Pump Inn, Chestnut Hill, was found guilty by a jury in the Montgomery county court, Norristown, of maintaing a gambling house.

Judge Swartz deferred the imposition of sentence for one week pending argument of a new trial. McGoldrick was one of eighty-five men arrested in the raid made on the hotel by the state constabulary on August 19 last.

Eighty-three of the men, including "Billy" Weinbeck, brother of "Moe" Keinbeck, head of the Weinbeck-Kelker twentieth ward gambling syndicate, escaped with fines of $100 and costs. Only one of the men arrested as a principal has gone to jail, Charles Silvers, a gray-haired gambler, who acted as lookout for the joint.

The jury reached a verdict in the case after fifty minutes of deliberation. McGoldrick's defense was that he did not know that the men whom he leased the large room adjoining the barroom of the inn wer operating a gambling house.

Upon instructions from the court, the jury returned a verdict of not guilty against McGoldrick on the charge that the hotel was being used as an agency for racetrack bookmakers. The maximum sentence that can be imposed upon the saloonkeeper is one year's imprisonment and a fine of $500.

"Is it possible for a man to watch 100 or more men pass before his bar every day and not suspect what their business was?" Judge Swartz said in his charge to the jury. "McGoldrick testified he said to the officer, 'It's a shame they didn't get the right one.' The officer interpreted the remark to mean, 'I won't tell you who the right ones are.'

"But even if McGoldrick's version of it is correct, does it not indicate he knew there were right ones and wrong ones, and was not in total ignorance of conditions in the back room that he would us believ. You cannot, under the evidence, find him guilty on the counts which charge him with being a common gambler himself, nor on the count charging that his back room was an agency for the forwarding of money to and from the racetracks. With regard to the gambling charges, they must be divided this way.

"Did McGoldrick lease his back room with full knowledge of the use to which it was to be put, or did he lease it in all innocence and later acquired a guilty knowledge and failed to report it? If you find either circumstances corroborated, he is guilty."

Montgomery County Good Roads Association.

At Centre Square, one evening last week a mass meeting of residents covering a stretch from Norristown to Montgomeryville was held. Its object was to organize an association which has been called the Montgomery County Good Roads association.

The officers are: Adolf Muller, president; Luther Shearer, North Wales, vice president; S. S. Hagerty, Montgomeryville, treasurer, and Miss Susan Michael, Whitpain, secretary.

This organization has the support of a very large number of influential citizens, who enrolled as members and who look for co-operation and encouragement from all sections of the county in the matter of working in harmony with the State Highway Department in the still further improving of county roads.

Special mention was made during the discussion to the deplorable condition of the old cross-county state road, which is the main highway connecting the county seats of Montgomery and Bucks—Norristown and Doylestown.

Officers and committees were elected to draft and present at he next meeting, which will be held at North Wales, Tuesday, Oct. 4, a program of current topics and to have the piatform rewritten, as adopted by the association.

This platform will be non-political and non-partisan, the product of taxpayers of all political beliefs.

Jury in Irish Case Disagrees.

On Thursday morning, the Warren L. Irish manslaughter jury was discharged by Judge Swartz, after having reported failure to agree upon any kind of a verdict.

The jurors argued for seven hours, and failed to make any material change in the standing of the vote. The first ballot, it is reported, was 8 to 4 for acquittal. When the inability to agree was announced, the vote stood 9 to 3.

It was a deadlock of such a character as to be hopeless.

Mrs. Marion R. Jones, of Pottstown, one of the two women on the jury, declared that there was no chance of compromise. She said: "The conscience of every member is clear today. Each juror stood for what he or she thought was duty. From the start it was a deadlock, and although there was a small compromise, we failed to get anywhere near a verdict. I have never been on a jury before, but I do not believe there ever was a tighter deadlock."

Irish was accused of running down and killing 16-year-old Edward Foley, at Rosemont, on the night of June 16. His car, with battered right fender, headlight and apparently freshly washed wheels, was found two days afterward by the Lower Merion police

Finley recently forwarded letters to the members asking that they pledge a sufficient amount that will cover the above. Furnishing the Farmer with a Market.

Congress has been discussing various means of restoring through government action the balance of supply demand that the war has for the time being upset. Our farmers have quantities of wheat and corn and cotton for sale. Europe, having no gold, few available goods to exchange and a more or less exhausted credit, cannot take what it really requires. Under the pressure of surplus crops domestic prices have crumbled and the farmer has lost money. Senator Norris proposed a Federal corporation supplied with $100,000,000 from the treasury as working capital, and authorized to issue $1,000,000,000 worth of bonds wherewith to extend credit to the countries of Europe that no longer have the necessary resources of their own.

There appeared at once a division of opinion concerning the precise effect that such an act would have and concerning the wisdom of attacking the problem in that particular way. Some thought that it would stimulate a large demand for American products abroad. Others thought that Europe is deliberately restricting its purchases, or making them in quarters where the price is lower than in the United States ,and that not even the temptation of enlarged credits would induce it to buy freely in our markets. Those people do not deny that the tendency of the legislation will be to raise the prices of farm products, but they say that the result will be accomplished by using the taxpayer's money to keep farm products out of the market until circumstances shall permit the producer to charge the same taxpayer more for the grain and the cotton that he has to use.

Other authorities, of whom Secretary Hoover is one, objected to the Norris plan because it will put the government back into business, and, they forsaw the same extravagance and waste of the people's money that has attended government adventures among the railways and in shipping. Mr. Hoover told the Senators that he knows as well as anyone that the economic plight of the American farmer is serious, but he feels that the government will act more wisely in encouraging and directing the employment of private capital to help the farmer to wait for his market than in attempting itself to perform the functions that private capital and private enterprise have hitherto performed.

The bill that Secrtary Hoover drew as a substitute for the Norris bill avoids the organization of a new governmental agency and does not authorize the government to buy, hold or sell farm products of any kind, It puts the organization and resources of the war finance corporation at the disposal of the agricultural industry and permits that board to lend money to concerns or individuals that are holding grain, cotton or sugar for sale, and that need financial help if they are not to be driven to a quick liquidation of their stocks. This plan, though it may not be so efficacious as the other otherin keeping up the price of farm products, avoids some of the principal objections to the Norris plan. The senate has already passed a bill; it is now before the house of representatives.

Head-On Collision Kills One Man.

Due to the foggy atmosphere prevailing on a recent morning about 7.30 o'clock, two cars collided on the Doylestown- Willow Grove trolley line, at a point just north of Willow Grove, fatally injuring the motorman of one of the cars, Edward Sheridan, of Cresmont. He died while being conveyed to the Abington hospital in the machine of a passing motorist.

The accident occurred north of the switch known as the "Turk turnout," where the passenger trolley due at this point at 7.24 passes the milk car. That morning, however,, the milk car did not arrive at he switch on schedule time. After waiting for a few minutes the crew of the passenger car decided to go on to the next switch, and had proceeded but a short distance, when the milk car, running at full speed, crashed headlong into the passenger trolley, which was operated by the victim of the fatality.

Sheridan was picked up unconscious and placed in the auto of Wm. Lewis, but expired before the hospital was reached.

The passengers in the trolley struck were considerably shaken up, but none was seriously injured.

Theodore DuBree was the name of the motorman of them ilk car, but he, fortunately, escaped injury. Isaac Stevenson was thec onductor of the passenger car.

Reception to Pastor at New Britain Church.

New Britain Baptist church gave the pastor, Rev. J. W. Clayton, a surprise party. The young people of the church announced that they were going to have a social, but did not reveal the nature of the party, and to the surprise of the pastor he found that it had been arranged as a reception, he having just taken charge of the field a short time ago.

After the congregation had assembled they sang "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," that being the native state of Mr. Clayton. Earl Fellman then presented the pastor a beautiful desk chair on behalf of the church. Mr. Clayton replied briefly, thanking the people for the many tokens of their esteem which had been shown him.

The remainder of the evening was spent in social games. The ladies served refreshments of ice cream and cake.

The pastor preached an impressive sermon, taking as his theme, "What Shall I render Unto the Lord for All His Benefits Toward Me?"

The first dance of the season of the Norton Downs, Jr., Post No. 125, American Legion will be held in the opera house hall Thursday evening, October 3rd, Tickets are on sale at Roberts' Drug Store, Inc., also by the members of the Post. The proceeds of the dance will be devoted to a fund to purchase banners and flags for the Post rooms, which quarters have been recently leased and furnished in the "Gazette" building. It is the intention of the members to hold a grand housewarming, lasting several days, as soon as the decorative touches are made to the Post apartments. The date for the same will be announced later.

Last Sunday was a red-letter day at Upper Dublin Lutheran church. The Sunday school room and church were both crowded, and Rev. W. C. Stiver delivered inspiring addresses in each. 121 were present in Sunday school and the offering was $19. The Infant Bible and other classes had special exercises. Also a recitation by Evelyn Lauer, a vocal solo by Edith Fry and a volin solo by Mrs. Talbert accompanied on the piano by Miss Grace Hipple. The church was beautifully decorated with "Harvest Home" products of field and garden. Much of the success of the day is due to "The Boosters" and Henry K. Faust, the efficient superintendent.

Robert, Jr., the four year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bowers, of Mt. Pleasant avenue, was drowned last Sunday in the old mill race near their home. The child was missed about 10 a. m., and it was believed that he had gone to his grandmother's home, but upon investigation it was learned that he had not been there. Later a tin cup found floating on the water was recognized and gave the first clue to the child's whereabouts. A rake was fastened on a long bean pole and the water was dredged. After a short while the body was recovered. Registrar White, of Norristown, viewed the remain later and gave a certificate of accidental death.

The A. B. C. of Banking.

Have you ever considered the advisability of representing locally an institution conducting a safe and conservative banking business still disposing of its capital stock direct to the public in this territory? Do you realize that your association with such an institution, based on the soundest banking principles, will add greatly to your circle of friends and increase your income in no small measure?

The advertiser is an old established banking institution with several hundred stockholders; has paid dividends regularly and enjoys a very tangible good will and reputation. Our business is loaning money with more than ample security, but in such a way as to produce an exceptionally attractive profit. We are not affected by the unfavorable conditions prevailing, and are at present seeking additional capital for expansion purposes.

If you are a well-known, energetic man with influence and standing in your locality and can devote at least a good part of your time to our interests, write us at once for details. A. B. C., 842 Widener Building, Philadelphia, Pa. adv

TOWN TOPICS.

"The primry election was nip tuck in Upper Dublin, but 'Tuck' won out." —Wm. J. Divine.

Edward C. Scott, tax collector, is sitting at the Ambler bank this Thursday and Friday afternoons from 1 to 5 for the collection of borough road and school taxes.

A reliable, dependable, easy running, easy riding, economical in gasoline, oil and assuring long life to tires—such is the car you are looking for. I beg to call your attention to the Buick. Examine it critically, ask a Buick owner and let me demonstrate its many commendable features. —Rudolph Speelhoffer, agent. adv

Tresspass notices on sale at the "Gazette" office are prepared in conformity with the existing state laws. The provision is that the property must be "prominently posted" with a "printed sign." The sign is required to state that the land is private property and that trespassing thereon is prohibited, and in addition the act of assembly must be stated at the foot of the card. Property owners have desire to proceed legally against tresspassers must comply with this law themselves with regard to the nature of the notice posted on their property, else legal action will fail, no matter how flagrant the violation. If you desire to close your land, secure these "Gazette" office notices and post them "prominently," as required by the law.

John Conard, of near Spring house, has in his possession some interesting historical publications, one of which is a volume containing several year's issues of the Poor Richard Almanac covering several years of the early Revolutionary war period. It contains some interesting reading good advice and other admonitions of public and private application. Another pamphlet is one issued by the North Pennsylvania railroad in 1859. It is a curious publication, and contains wood cut, reproductions of artists' sketches of the several stations along the line, one of which is of Fort Washington. In a crude way it shows the railroad cut, the present Gordon hotel on one side and the Carn property on the other. Other pictures are of Edge Hill, Abington, now know as Glenside, Fisher's lane, City Line, now called Melrose, Oak Lane, etc. A third reference of interest in Mr. Conard's collection is a time card of the North Penn railroad bearing date of 1876, when Ambler was known as Wissahickon, and when only six passenger trains ran each way on the road daily, with only two—one north-bound and one return—on Suday. The line then terminated at Third and Berks street. In the pamphlet illustrative of the road, a print in the early pages shows the trains, drawn by horses, leaving this terminus in the early history of the road.

Thomas Rose has purchased a Ford car, and is representing the Alloway Products Corporation on the road.

So far as Ambler and some of the nearby districts are concerned there is still an open question as to just what will happen, if politics is played by the leaders against the women, who now appear to want offices. There was no concerted effort by the workers except in Upper Gwynedd, to defeat the candidates of the League of Women Voters at the recent primary. At the latter place politics was played, it is said, and stickers were used in defeating both women candidates for the Republican and Democratic nominations. Another point that was very much in evidence at the primary last week was the difference of opinion among the women themselves, and it was also plain that the men folk took no hand in asserting their opinions in the home as to how the women should vote. When this comes to pass there certainly will be a real fight. The league of Women Voters is also being looked upon with suspicion by the leaders of both parties, and last week in a Philadelphia newspaper a woman came out openly and stated that the league is organized only to further the interest of a few self-constituted leaders. This of course referred only to Philadelphia, but nevertheless there are those who believe this to be a fact even in other sections. The local league members say they are organized for instruction only and that is why women members of both parties are invited to join. In again referring to the Ambler school board fight, a citizen of the Third ward, of Ambler who a few years ago was quite active in politics in the borough said: "The workers of both parties have been guilty of playing the game to the limit, but no matter how far they go there is an unwritten rule that our school board must be kept free of politics, and for more than 15 years this has been adhered to until Tuesday. It is safe to say," he continued, "that if the women had made known to the committeemen their desire there is no doubt but that satisfactory arrangements could have been made so that no fight would have taken place this year." It is a known fact that none of the committee had ever been approached with regard to them after until the question was fully settled and the petition circulated.

A Grateful Letter.

It is in trying conditions like that related below by Mrs. George L. North of Naples, N. P., that proves the worth of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. "Two years ago last summer" she says "our little boy had dysentery. At that time we were living in the country eight miles from a doctor. Our son was taken ill suddenly and was about the sickest child I ever saw. He was in terrible pain all the time and passed from one convulsion into another. I sent my husband for the doctor and after he was gone thought of a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy in the cupboard. I gave him some of it and he began to improve at once. By the time the doctor arrived he was out of adnger." sep

Speeders Complained of on Pike—Voters Peeved; Whose Fault?—Rev. Dr. Santee Receives Gift of Franklin Runabout—Miscellaneous.

Samuel Yeakle, who has been on the sick list with a heavy cold ,is able to be about again.

Mrs. Charles Copes will leave this week to spend a month at Willoughby, Beach, Va., visiting her daughter, Mrs. R. E. Barrett, and husband, Lieutenant Barrett.

Rev. Dr. Charles A. Santee, pastor of St. Paul's Reformed church, has just received a handsome gift in the form of a Franklin runabout car to replace the Ford roadster which Dr. Santee has enjoyed for some years and in which he has made many delightful trips. The gift, which is highly appreciated, comes from a friend, presumably a member of his congregation.

The holy communion will be celebrated in St. Paul's Reformed church next Sunday morning. The preparatory service will be held on Friday evening at 7.45 o'clock.

Mrs. James Craig has returned to the home of her daughter, in Boston, Mass., after having spent some time here with her sons, Dr. A. J. Craig and local druggist, Walter A. Craig. Mrs. Craig was accompanied by Mrs. John Davies, who intends to remain several weeks at Boston as the guest of her son, Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Winterbottom were among our residents who attended the great Allentown fair last week.

Jacob Weirman was notified that the body of his brother, who was drowned at Fortesque September 17, had been washed ashore at Cape May last Thursday. The unfortunate man was with a number of other men from Norristown, where he resided, on a fishing trip to the above place. Correct details as to how the accident happened are missing. However, it is said that the party had completed fishing and were about headed for home when the cry of the unfortnuate man was heard and he was seen to raise only once to the surface.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davies and children who were on a visit to relatives here, left last week one day in an automobile and will make the entire trip to their home in Boston Mass., by motor.

There appears to be much complaint now since the pike has finished on account of ther eckless manner motor vehicles are operated by some of the drivers. Children on their way to the Whitemarsh school are in considerable danger from these reckless drivers, and the sooner the state and township authorities get together and prosecute these violators of the law and make the road safe for our children, as well as adults, the better it will be for all concerned.

Will some of our residents go before the courts and ascertain whether or not they can be deprived of voting at a primary when they have declared themselves to the assessor and of which there is proof, is a question that now being given the local politicians much concern. At the primary election last week it appears that there were several residents that could not vote because they had not declared themselves according to the register's list of voters yet it is claimed that when the assessors were around enrolling the voters that some did declare themselves, but for some reason was not recorded and of course the voter affected could not cast his or her ballot at the primary. So far as can be learned there is no way that the situation can be gotten around so that the voter may exercise his or her rights when they have declared themselves and it is clearly shown that it was the result of carelessness either on the part of the assessor or transcribers at Norristown. A like situation, it is said, took place at a number of the polling places during the recent primary.

Last Friday night the Whitemarsh station of the Trenton cut off was broken into by thieves and the trunks of R. M. Cadwalader. Jr., were rifled. The state police at Ambler were notified and from their investigation it was learned that it was a one man's job and that he was seen at work by an employe of the railroad company.

An electric motor to operate the pump on the organ at St. Thomas' church, has recently been installed.

A meeting of the Fort Washington Building and Loan association will be held in the Fire House at Fort Washington next Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock for the purpose of receiving the October dues.

3 Counties Have Gas Rate Hearings.

Householders living in three counties near Philadelphia, who united in protest against the alleged exorbitant rates fixed by the Philadelphia Suburban Gas and Electric company, are having their innings this week.

Hearings of consumers' protests started this Wednesday, and there will be day and night sessions until the investigation is finished. Objectors will be present from every suburb in Montgomery, Chester and Delaware Counties.

The increase in rates to more than $2 a thousand cubic feet on gas is declared by consumers unwarranted in the face of a "falling market" of materials used in gas production and in wages. In addition the protestants allege an overcharge in accounts rendered for the month in which the new rates were made effective.

In an announcement issued by the central committee emphasizing the importance of the hearings scheduled, all gas users who find that they have a just grievance are invited to file reports or attend the hearings in person.

"Housewives in the district who have noted from actual experience, at the gas range or otherwise, the general quality of the gas ,the pressure, the service rendered, the effect on baking and general preparation of food," are asked to communicate at once with the committee.

The weather conditions will have much to do with closing of Zieber's park, as there still are a number of people who find pleasure at this well known family resort.

This section was well represented last week at the Allentown fair, as quite a large number of our residents attended, and they report the fair bigger and better than ever.

The vote stood: Hillegas 84 Republican, and 15 Democratic; Mrs. Jenkins, 56 Republican and 9 Democratic; Reed 72 Republican and 20 Democratic; Mrs. Walton, 51 Republican and 10 Democratic. However, the women believe that they made a good fight for the first time and will try again. At this time it is not known whether or not an independent ticket will be placed in the field.

Many drivers of automobiles do not hesitate to say that the work on the DeKalb Street pike from the Germantown pike east is the poorest that they have ever seen. When the tarvia was put on large stone were used to cover it and which became imbedded in such a manner as to expose the sharp part of many of the stones, which makes heavy wear on rubber tires.

Approximately one-half of the new concrete highway between Doylestown and the Bucks-Montgomery county line has been completed. The road was finished as far as Warrington on Friday night. Present indications are that the road will be completed as far south as the Street Road, Neshaminy this year.

An official of the State Highway Department stated Friday night that he did not believe it would be possible to complete the contract this year unless the winter season is unusually late. He said that he believed the contract would be completed to Neshaminy and the balance next year.
